

Cindy Koob Author Reading

Where Do Dandelions Go?

Saturday, November 16, 2:00

125 12 Street East

This heartwarming story of the oftentimes difficult journey of dandelions is delicately interwoven into an effective teaching tool for children about mental health, diversity, inclusion and resilience. A must have for your children's collection!

Born and raised in the Canadian prairies, Cindy is well acquainted with the foundational values of faith, family and community. Out of her life experience emerged a passion to create a lifelong bond of intimacy with God and to share His love with others.

Cindy enjoys her ever expanding family, her walk with Christ, and the beauty of nature that surrounds her.